Jagiellonian University | Jagiellonian Language Centre | Kraków | Saturday 21 September 2019

This year’s EULETA workshop will focus on ‘Collaboration in the Teaching and Learning of Legal English’. The workshop is co-organised by EULETA and Jagiellonian University’s Language Centre and will be held on 21 September 2019 at the Jagiellonian University’s Faculty of Law and Administration in Kraków, thanks to the patronage of the Dean of the Faculty. This workshop is geared around working together and sharing skills for the teaching and learning of Legal English. Teachers will share practical experiences, skills and expertise to further their professional development in an enriching and collaborative environment. Take this opportunity to expand beyond the classroom, share your own expertise, gain real practical experience from Legal English teachers and contribute to the development of excellence in language teaching for specific purposes.
