

UNIVERSITÄT GREIFSWALD
Wissen lockt. Seit 1456

CALL FOR PAPERS

EULETA Workshop 2022: Diverse approaches to teaching legal English

Combining legal, linguistic, and teaching expertise to present innovative educational methods

Co-organised by Greifswald University's Faculty of Law and Economics and EULETA

In-person workshop | University of Greifswald, Germany | Saturday 24th September 2022

About

EULETA's membership is made up of many people working in different capacities in legal English, for example: lawyers, linguists, translators, legal English trainers for professionals, and legal English university professors. This workshop, co-organised by Greifswald University's Faculty of Law and Economics and EULETA aims to bring our diverse members together to share and find new practical ways of combining our expertise to improve our legal English teaching.

We welcome abstracts for practical workshop sessions which can highlight combining expertise from different spheres of the legal English sector. Topics could include:

- developing exercises and activities for legal English teaching based on legal or linguistic sources
- using cross-disciplinary educational tools and applications for teaching legal English
- creating interactive activities drawing on different fields of expertise in legal English

Workshop sessions will be 45 minutes in length, 30 minutes + 15 minutes for Q and A.

Submit your abstract

Please fill in this Google Form to submit your abstract:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSefkrUggcZxyN4MJbDPkeS-zJ5T0ySmqA7pf0umJden-k-oDA/viewform?usp=sf_link

Key dates

The abstract deadline is midnight CET 30th April 2022

The EULETA Board will review abstracts and notify presenters by 13th May 2022

Note

Further workshop details will be published at a later date.

This is an in-person workshop and not online. If there are further restrictions due to Covid-19, the Board will reconsider the arrangements.

Please direct any questions to: Secretary@euleta.org